Michelle Somers

Marketing Manager, PSEG Long Island

PSEG Long Island experienced a strong incremental increase in paperless billing enrollments and built a strong foundation for long-term customer engagement.

Challenge:

PSEG Long Island's goal was to enroll residential customers in paperless billing to reach conversion goals and reduce billing costs.

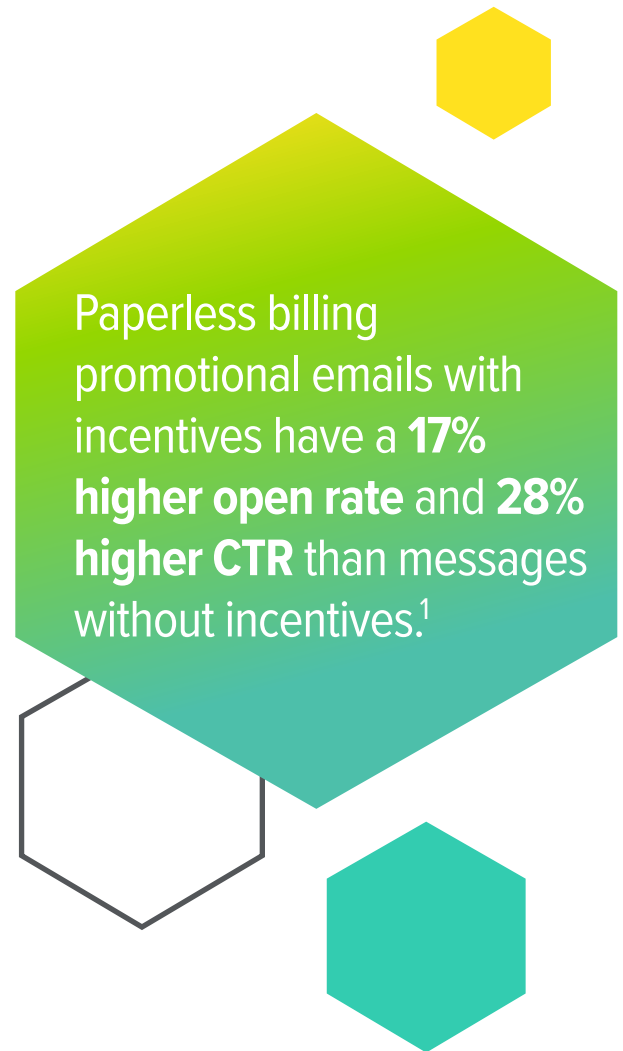

Solution:

Questline Digital became a partner to help grow PSEG Long Island's paperless billing program. With Questline Digital's recommendations, the energy utility took advantage of various incentives to encourage paperless conversions.

Questline Digital and PSEG Long Island tested smaller incentives, such as gift cards and free LED lightbulbs, given to all customers who signed up. They also gave away large monetary prizes to only select customers, including $1,000 and the chance to win tickets to a major league baseball game.

Results:

Through testing of numerous incentives, PSEG Long Island identified what worked best for their target audience and successfully increased paperless billing enrollment by 51,190 customers. The energy utility discovered that tangible, guaranteed incentives drove greater engagement.
